Image consultant will teach young professionals workshop on business vs. social dress

DENVER – Image consultant Lori Ryno will present the Young Professionals Group workshop “What to Wear: Business vs. Social” from 5 to 6:30 p.m. on June 18 at the Colorado Women’s Chamber of Commerce Offices, 1624 Market St., Suite 340 in Denver.

The workshop is for professionals ages 21 to 39 and is $5 for CWCC members and $10 for non-members. Attendees can register online at www.cwcc.org.

The purpose of this workshop is to help attendees figure out how to go from corporate to casual to carpool to cocktail. The workshop will help young professionals alleviate confusion when it comes to dressing for success or social gatherings. Attendees will also learn about the impact of visual appearance.

Owner of Images Matter, Lori Ryno is a member of the Association of Image Consultants International and Fashion Group International and has been a professional Image Consultant for more than 15 years. Ryno taught color and wardrobe for John Robert Powers Modeling & Acting School in Denver; provided color expertise to Este Lauder cosmetic counters for special color event days; served as a panel judge for the National American Miss Beauty Pageant; and wrote fashion editorials for The Downtowner magazine.

The Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce Young Professionals Group is for professional men and women ages 21 to 39. The group's mission is to foster a community of young dynamic professionals to cultivate an environment of education, growth and balance.
